Spring Feedback and SGL Gifts

Spring Feedback

The final feedback form is now available on the OLLI website under "Classes" and then "Semesters/Minis." Here is the direct link: Feedback

Please take a few minutes to submit feedback as each of your study groups comes to a close this semester.

You can also fill out a paper form located in each classroom (ask your SGR for one) and outside the OLLI office. Your feedback is an important part of being a member of a learning community. Whether the feedback praises an SGL for a job well done and/or offers constructive suggestions that might help the SGL, it is a demonstration of your support for our SGLs and OLLI program and is greatly appreciated. As always, if you have suggestions for improvement, please be mindful of stating them in a constructive and respectful manner.

SGL Gifts

All of OLLI's study group leaders are volunteers. Each academic session, members are invited to give them a gift in honor of all of the work they do to prepare and deliver their courses. This is completely voluntary. SGL gifts can be made on the OLLI website under "Give" and then "SGL Gifts." You must log into your account on the website to see the gift form. SGL gifts can also be made by mailing or dropping off a check made payable to OLLI at AU with the course number(s) listed in the memo field. The OLLI office will collect all gifts, write a check to each SGL, and mail the check with any notes from members to the SGL(s).

Feedback and SGL Gifts will be accepted through Friday, May 12.

Judy Feder, Do You Have to Worry About Medicare?

April 14

1:30-2:30 PM

In-person at OLLI

Register

Amidst jeers of “you lie” at the State of the Union Address, the health and income security programs for older Americans have again become a contentious political issue. Health policy expert Judy Feder will talk to us about the political and policy issues facing Medicare.

Judy Feder is a professor of public policy and, from 1999 to 2008, served as dean of what is now the McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University. A nationally recognized leader in health policy, Judy has made her mark on the nation’s health insurance system, through both scholarship and public service. Judy’s health policy research began at the Brookings Institution, continued at the Urban Institute, and, since 1984, has flourished at Georgetown University. In the late 1980s, Judy moved from policy research to policy leadership, actively promoting effective health reform as staff director of the congressional Pepper Commission (chaired by Sen. John D. Rockefeller IV) in 1989-90; principal deputy assistant secretary for planning and evaluation at the Department of Health and Human Services in former President Bill Clinton’s first term; a senior fellow at the Center for American Progress (2008-2011) and, today, as an Institute Fellow at the Urban Institute; the National Academy of Social Insurance; and a member of the Center for American Progress Action Fund Board and of the Hamilton Project’s Advisory Council. In 2006 and 2008, Judy was the Democratic nominee for Congress in Virginia’s 10th congressional district. Judy is a political scientist, with a BA from Brandeis University, and an MA and PhD from Harvard University.

For better and worse, nothing stays still. DC artist Gail Rebhan (b. 1953) knows that well and this, her first museum retrospective, explores her many different ways over four decades of using and reconfiguring the time-slicing medium of photography to reflect on macro-and-micro-dynamics of interactions inside families—her own and that of other immigrants—on the centuries of change in diverse areas of the nation's capital, and on the marks of time revealed on her body (along with periodic attempts to fight it) from young adult, to mother of two sons, then caregiver of an aging father, to the present as she continues making art and living while facing the start of her seventh decade. OLLI is excited to be a co-sponsor for this exhibit. There are several Gallery Talks for which you can register.
