Your content is safe and private

Privacy is important to us. That's why we adhere to simple yet strict privacy rules:

You are the sole owner of the produced content in the app. It will remain private unless you choose otherwise.

We are committed to collecting only the absolute minimum data necessary for using the service.

We may use anonymous, unidentified app usage information for product improvement purposes.

Some of our vendors are US-based, so personal data may be transferred to the US. Please review our Privacy Policy to learn how this may affect you.

We urge you to read Photomyne's complete GDPR information page before continuing.
