Welcome to the “New Normal”

What a difference a year makes. On March 2 of last year, spring semester classes at OLLI at AU began normally. Over the next several days, more than 1100 members participated in 93 classes, mingled in our social spaces, dropped by our offices, and experienced the joy of parking in the basement. A week later, the classrooms were empty, and the social space and offices closed as we switched to remote operations via a not-then-widely-known technology named Zoom. Some SGLs cancelled courses because they were uncomfortable with the new technology or felt it would not work well with their courses. Some members withdrew from classes for similar reasons. However, by the time the June Minis and July Shorts rolled around, we — SGLs, members, and staff — were getting our technological footing.

By the end of the fall semester, operating remotely had become not only our New Normal, it actually seemed normal.

Now, as we approach the coming fall semester, we are moving toward yet another New Normal, one that will itself evolve over the academic year. The biggest and most exciting change, of course, will be the return to some in-person classes and other activities. As you will see, we are offering a mix of in-person, hybrid (a combination of in-person and Zoom) and Zoom-only classes. By next February and spring, the large majority of our classes will be in-person and hybrid. We can’t wait to see our OLLI friends on campus, but we know that Zoom is an important part of our program now and in the future. SGLs and members who have mobility concerns or who move away from the Washington area can still offer courses or attend some classes here. Thanks to Zoom recordings, members can now view classes or lectures they missed or other classes that interest them. A planned permanent library of selected class recordings will provide a treasure trove of the “Best of OLLI” over the years. In short, we are in many ways a different OLLI from a year or even six months ago, an ironic benefit of the pandemic. The “New Normal” is here to stay even as it continues to change.

We are therefore doubly excited about the fall semester, not only for what we consider to be a very rich list of offerings, but also to see how our experimental trifecta of formats works. We hope you are excited as well. To accommodate your preferences for the different formats available, we have revised the registration process to give you more options (see page 7 for details). Lottery day is September 7. We look forward to receiving your feedback during and at the end of the semester. Meanwhile, we want to extend strong thanks and congratulations to our SGLs, members of the Curriculum Committee, and OLLI staff who have worked so long and hard to bring all these parts together.

John Bargeron    Tony Long
Chair, Board of Directors   Executive Director

In conformance with American University policy, any person attending Fall 2021 OLLI-related classes or events in any AU facilities, must be fully vaccinated, with certain medical and religious exemptions.
MISSION

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at American University is an association of, by, and for the people in the Washington, DC area who wish to continue to study and learn.

OLLI at AU is dedicated to the proposition that learning is a lifelong process and that curiosity never retires.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

OLLI does not discriminate on the basis of race, gender, age, religious preference, national origin, or sexual orientation.

WHAT IS OLLI AT AU?

Drawing on the talent and experience of seniors in the Washington, DC area, the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at American University offers a unique opportunity to continue learning at the university level. Members come from varied social, economic, and career backgrounds, ranging from business, academia, and homemaking to education, the arts, and government service. What they have in common is a genuine interest in continuing their learning experiences and intellectual stimulation by participation in an organization with other “seasoned learners.” There are no educational prerequisites for membership in OLLI.

Learning Community
The basic concept of the program is that of peer learning and teaching designed specifically for people who are 50 years of age or older. Members participate fully in study groups through preparation for, and involvement in, discussions on a wide variety of subjects. There are no tests and no grades; members participate purely for the joy of learning. Members are encouraged to discuss the possibility of leading a study group with members of the Curriculum Committee and by participating in our Study Group Leader Training Orientation.

Membership Involvement
Members become involved not only as study group leaders or representatives but also as participants on an elected board and appointed committees. As a democratic membership organization, OLLI depends on the volunteer services of its members. Members are strongly encouraged to participate in one or more of the following:

The Board of Directors and its various committees develop and implement policies, procedures, and activities designed to enhance the overall program.

Study Group Leaders (SGLs) are members with special expertise or interests who wish to share these with other members by designing and leading study groups. They are entitled to free classes during the semester they lead a group or the following semester.

HOW IS OLLI AT AU ORGANIZED?

OLLI at AU is an independent, 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization incorporated in Washington, DC, and is part of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute National Network, which now includes 125 Institutes in all 50 states and the District of Columbia. For the 2021 Fall semester, we will offer classes in three formats: in-person, online, and hybrid (SGL and some members in-person with other members participating online.)

Support of OLLI at AU
Membership fees ($270 this semester) support the program. OLLI is further supported by an endowment from the Osher Foundation given to, and managed by, American University. OLLI receives a percentage of the interest from the endowment annually to assist in funding OLLI’s operations.

The Friends of OLLI Fund, established by the Board of Directors, is a reserve fund helping OLLI maintain affordable tuition, expand and enhance its physical facilities, and develop innovative and diverse programs.
THE ABCs OF OLLI

Accessibility
OLLI is making every effort to accommodate members. The building is accessible. We provide documentation in large print format, ask our Study Group Leaders to turn on captions for all videos, and continue to research Zoom and its third-party providers to identify plug-ins to aid accessibility. Please contact the office if you need help in accessing classes or materials.

Adding or Dropping Study Groups
Members may add, drop, or change study groups through the second week of a semester.

American University Benefits

AU Library
Typically, all registered OLLI members may use the AU Library. However, at this time, the University does not know whether the library will be open to members.

Jacobs Fitness Center
Likewise, typically, OLLI members are eligible for an annual membership at the Jacobs Fitness Center (202-885-6267) at a discounted rate. However, at this time, the University does not know whether the Fitness Center will be open to members.

Books
Books are available through Politics and Prose bookstore at 5015 Connecticut Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20008, 202-364-1919 or politics-prose.com online.
Books also can be ordered online (often at reduced prices) or purchased at other book stores. The following are some online suggestions for purchasing books, in alphabetical order:
You also can help support Black-owned bookstores in the DC, Maryland, and Virginia, including the following stores. Many offer online ordering and shipping:
- In Maryland: Black Stone Bookstore & Cultural Center, Everyone’s Place, and Wisdom Book Center; or

Contact Information
Please log into your OLLI account to ensure your contact information, including your home and cell telephone numbers, email, and an emergency contact name and relationship, are current and accurate.

Directory of Members
We publish a member directory each semester listing members’ names, addresses, phone numbers, and emails. The directory is available online to download during the second week of classes. A limited number of printed copies are available upon request. Please note the Privacy Policy on the next page.

Email and E-Newsletter
Email is our primary means of communication. Please check your email several times per week during the semester. Also, we email a weekly newsletter on Friday mornings.

Fourth Study Group
After class assignment letters are emailed to members, members may add a free fourth study group on our website.

Lecture Series
We offer four Lecture Series throughout the year. During each semester there is a lecture on Fridays from 1:30 to 2:30 PM. In January and May, there are lectures on various weekday mornings from 10:00 to 11:00 AM. During fall 2021, all lectures will be held on Zoom. No registration is required for lectures held via Zoom. The Zoom link is included in the weekly e-newsletter.

Lost and Found
There is a lost and found box beneath the table outside the OLLI office. Please check there if you have misplaced something.

Lunchtime Options
Brown bag lunch with OLLI friends in one of the social spaces on the 5th floor. Buy lunch to carry out or eat in at DeCarlo’s Restaurant, Le Pain Quotidien, Millie’s, Starbucks, or Wagshal’s Market—all within one block of 4801 Massachusetts Ave. NW.

Open Houses occur each fall and spring, enabling new and continuing members to get together, learn about OLLI, and meet board members and study group leaders.

The Semester Lecture Series features members of the greater Washington, DC, community presenting free lectures on Fridays from 1:30 to 2:30 PM.

Interim Lecture Series are held on weekday mornings in January and May—from 10:00 to 11:00 AM—featuring speakers on a variety of subjects. Lectures are free.

Special events, including Serendipities!, trips, Coffee Chats, Happy Hours, and virtual tours, are held at various times.

The Town Hall in the fall and Annual Meeting in the spring give members an opportunity to voice concerns, ask questions, and learn more about OLLI’s future plans.
Membership Fee
The fee paid each semester (or for both the fall and spring semesters) is a membership fee. Members may take from one to three study groups for the semester fee. The fee is not a fee per study group. The membership fee entitles you to all of the benefits of membership at OLLI at AU.

Minis
Minis are study groups held once-a-week for four weeks during the month of June. Each class session is 1½ hours long.

Nametags
Please wear your OLLI nametag to all in-person classes. Lanyards and plastic nametag holders are available outside the office.

Privacy Policy
OLLI at American University is highly sensitive to the privacy interests of members and believes that the protection of those interests is one of its most significant responsibilities. We publish the member directory as a courtesy to members. We expect members to respect other members’ privacy. The directory is not to be shared with others outside of OLLI. If you have questions about this policy, please contact us at 202-895-4860 or olli@american.edu.

Refunds
The office must receive requests for refunds by the deadline specified on the second page of the catalog, opposite the table of contents. A $10 processing fee will be assessed.

Scholarships
If you need scholarship assistance, please download and complete the scholarship request form on the website. All requests are confidential.

Semesters
OLLI at AU has two regular academic semesters: Spring, which begins in March and Fall, which begins in September. Semester study groups run for 8 to 10 weeks. Each class session is 1½ hours long.

Serendipities!
OLLI at AU members and their friends are invited to give a talk or presentation to the OLLI membership as part of our Serendipities! program. To arrange a Serendipity, please contact the OLLI office by email at olli@american.edu or by phone at 202-895-4860.

Shorts
We offer February and July Shorts, three- to five-day immersion study groups. Each class session is 1½ hours long.

Spring Valley Building
American University and OLLI at AU refer to 4801 Massachusetts Ave. NW as the Spring Valley Building.

Texting
Sign up to receive text messages regarding delayed openings, closings, cancelled classes, etc. 1. Login to your account. Click on “Edit Account” in the menu on the left. Add your cell phone number to your account if it does not appear, then click “Submit.” A blank page titled “Overview” appears. 2. Click on “Text Messaging.” Click on the blue button that reads “Opt In for Text Messaging.” You will receive a text to confirm. 3. Reply “YES.” You can opt out at any time.

Transfers
Membership in OLLI is not transferable. Spouses or partners must have their own individual memberships.

Trips
Each academic year we try to offer several trips. Typically, buses are provided. Trips sometimes include boxed lunches or meals at a restaurant. Recent destinations have included:

- Arlington Cemetery
- The State Department Diplomatic Rooms
- Museum of the American Revolution, Philadelphia
- Behind the Scenes at The National Cathedral
- Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Richmond

Vending Machines
There are vending machines with water, soda, and snacks on the 4th and 6th floors.

Waitlists
If a seat opens in a class which has a waitlist, members will be contacted by staff and offered a seat in the order in which they appear on the waitlist.

Weather Policy for Class Cancellation
OLLI follows American University’s weather policy. If AU has a delayed opening, OLLI’s 9:45 AM classes are cancelled and the 11:45 AM and 1:45 PM classes are held. If AU is closed, OLLI also is closed for the day and all classes, including classes on Zoom, are cancelled. OLLI posts a notification of any delay or closure on its website (olli-dc.org) by 6:30 AM and sends an email to all registrants.

Website
Please visit the OLLI website at www.olli-dc.org:

- to view our calendar, including lectures and events;
- to register for classes and to pay membership dues with a credit card in an encrypted, secure transaction;
- to add, drop, or change classes; to request a refund; to volunteer; and/or
- to make a donation.

Wi-Fi
Wi-Fi at OLLI is free. The Network Name is AUGuest-ByRCN. No password is required.
PARKING & TRANSIT

Public Transportation
Visit the Parking & Transit page (in the About submenu) on our website at for up-to-date information on using public transportation to attend OLLI activities.

Parking
Parking is available in the garage beneath 4801. In accordance with DC regulations and AU’s “Good Neighbor Policy,” all members of the AU community—including OLLI members—are required to park in AU lots while attending OLLI. Parking on the street while attending OLLI likely will result in a $200 parking ticket from AU. For full parking information, visit the Parking & Transit page (in the About submenu) on our website.

Parking Payment Options
Parking is $2 per hour. You must pay for parking before class. You must know your vehicle’s license plate number. You may pay with cash or credit card: 1) at the kiosks located on each level of the 4801 garage, or 2) with credit card by phone, or 3) with credit card using the PayByPhone app.

How to Use Pay By Phone
Dial 888-450-7275. The first time, you will be prompted to:
- Enter your cell phone number
- Create a 4-digit pin number
- Enter your 16-digit credit card number
- Enter your 4-digit expiration date
- Enter the 4-digit location code for Spring Valley Garage: 4889
- Enter your license plate number.
- Enter the number of hours you want to park.

AU SHUTTLE BUS FROM TENLEYTOWN METRO

For full information on the shuttle service, go to: http://www.american.edu/finance/transportation/shuttle.cfm on AU’s website.

The AU shuttle buses are kneeling buses and are handicapped accessible.
A free, open-to-the-public AU shuttle bus leaves regularly from the Tenley Metro station, makes stops at the Katzen Center, and then at the Spring Valley Building (4801 Massachusetts Ave. NW), where OLLI is located. To return to the Katzen Center Garage or the Metro, catch the shuttle at the shuttle bus stop behind 4801 Massachusetts Ave. NW.

How to Use the PayByPhone App
You can download the free “PayByPhone” app from the App Store or Google Play Store to pay for parking via your smartphone.
The first time you need to:
- Enter your cell phone number
- Create a 4-digit pin number
- Enter your 16-digit credit card number
- Enter your 4-digit expiration date
- Enter the 4-digit location code for Spring Valley Garage: 4889
- Enter your license plate number.
- Enter the number of hours you want to park.

REGISTRATION PROCESS

Registrations are due by 8:00 AM Tues., Sept. 7, for the Fall Lottery. Class sizes are determined by Study Group Leaders’ requests, classroom capacity, and the office. If a study group is oversubscribed on Lottery Day, registrations in that class are subjected to a random, computerized lottery. Members who are not selected for said study group are put on the waiting list and will be emailed by the office if space becomes available. Class assignment letters will be emailed by Thurs., Sept. 9.

We will continue to accept registrations on a space-available basis until the semester begins. OLLI reserves the right to cancel any study group. Members registered in a study group that is cancelled will be notified immediately so that they may select an available alternate.

JOIN OLLI AT AU

You may join OLLI, pay for membership, register for study groups, and donate to OLLI, all at once. To do so, complete the form on the following pages. Mail the form to the address on the form with a check made payable to OLLI. Or register online at www.olli-dc.org to pay with a credit card in an encrypted, secure transaction.

To register, you will need to create a user account. Follow the steps below to do so.

1. Go to http://www.OLLI-DC.org
   Click on “Membership” in the menu at the top of the page. A submenu appears. Click on “Join OLLI.”
2. A new screen appears titled “Join OLLI.” Click on “create an account” in the first paragraph.
3. Fill in the contact information form including entering a username and password. Write your username and password below. If you lose your username, the OLLI office can give it to you. If you forget your password, you can reset it or ask the office to do so.
   Username ______________________________________
   Password ________________________________
4. Follow the instructions under Register for Study Groups.

REGISTER FOR STUDY GROUPS

1. Identify the number of study groups you are interested in taking. You must select 1, 2, or 3.
2. Prioritize up to 12 study groups based on your preference for taking the study groups.
   (1 = highest priority and 12 = lowest priority).
   If the class is hybrid, be sure to include your desired format, in-person or online. If you are willing to attend either in-person or online, be sure to list each format for the class. See the example on the registration form.
   Note: Prioritize your study groups by whichever method works best for you: subject matter, time/day, location, or Study Group Leader. Even if you mark that you only want to take one study group, you may still prioritize up to 12 study groups. When the system processes your registration, it will assign you to your highest priority study groups that are available.
3. Submit your registration.
4. You will receive email confirmation of your pending registration.
5. After Lottery Day, you will receive by email your class assignment letter.
   Through the second week of classes, you can change your schedule online or by emailing the office.
   You may register online for a fourth course AFTER you have received your class assignment letter.
   Study group leaders spend a prodigious amount of time preparing their classes. Please attend the classes for which you are registered and only the classes for which you are registered.

INTRODUCING HYBRID CLASSES

With the Fall semester, OLLI is offering classes in three formats: Online Only, In-Person Only, and Hybrid. In hybrid classes, the SGL and some members of the class are in-person while other members participate via Zoom. In the catalog, each course description lists the format. When registering for a hybrid class, you must select whether you want to attend in-person (Hybrid In-Person) or by Zoom (Hybrid Zoom). List both formats if the class is a priority and you’re willing to attend either format. Given the greater number of options, you can now prioritize up to 12 classes for the lottery, instead of just six. As always, the lottery will then assign you to up to three classes.

104: The Knowledge Gap: The Hidden Cause of America’s Broken Education System—and How to Fix It
NATALIE WEXLER
Eight Wednesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
October 6
Online Only
We’ve long been trying to improve education outcomes and narrow gaps between students from wealthy and poor families, without success. There’s a basic problem that’s been overlooked: elementary schools focus on supposed reading comprehension skills like “finding the main idea” rather than trying to teach kids anything substantive. Yet scientific studies show the key factor in comprehension isn’t skill, it’s knowledge. Children from more educated families pick up academic knowledge at home, but others rely on school for that. And in our system, they’re the least likely to get it there. We’ll explore how this situation came about—and how we can turn education into the engine of social mobility that it should be. This study group has a high class size capacity.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 1-2 hrs/week.
Natalie Wexler is an education writer and the author of The Knowledge Gap: The Hidden Cause of America’s Broken Education System—And How to Fix It. She is a senior contributor to Forbes, and her work has appeared in The Atlantic, The New York Times, and other publications. She has spoken on education before a wide variety of groups.

111: Reconstruction and Its Legacies: The 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments
DAVID POMERANTZ
Eight Fridays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 24
Online Only
The era of Reconstruction lasted from the Emancipation Proclamation in 1863 to the withdrawal of Federal troops after the election of Rutherford B. Hayes in 1877. In this period, America abolished slavery and tried to repair the citizenship and voting rights of African Americans before reintegrating the 11 secessionist states and the former Confederate soldiers and supporters who lived there. In the 75 years that followed, the gains of Reconstruction were largely overturned by Black codes, Jim Crow laws, and violence. The 13th, 14th and 15th amendments, however, rank among the enduring legacies of the era. We’ll study how those amendments were understood when proposed and how they came to be interpreted today. This study group has a large capacity.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: No required reading.
David Pomerantz taught political philosophy at SUNY Stony Brook in the early 1980s. He then worked for the House of Representatives, the House Rules Committee, and the House Appropriations.
112: Understanding Asia
RITA HADDEN
Nine Tuesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 21
Online Only
Why is Asia thriving? How have China, Japan, India, and their Asian neighbors changed? What is China after? Join us for intelligent conversation on issues such as: How has Asian economic development impacted poverty, family, and gender patterns? Status of health and healthcare in Asia? Where are key Asian flash points? How is Asia dealing with disastrous pollution? What major changes could move Asia forward faster and better? Cultural Expectations: East vs. West. This study group will cover political, social, cultural, health, business, technology, and historical topics. Each week, class members receive articles via email that will be used for class discussion. Reading, class participation, and email address are required. This study group has a large capacity.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Reading and Discussion
Reading: 1 hr/week.
Rita Hadden is Chinese-American, born in Hanoi, and lived in Saigon, Phnom Penh, Hong Kong, Thailand, China, and the US. She has traveled widely in Asia and worked in China for a year. She was President of the Asian American Forum in Washington, DC, and has lectured on Asian topics at OLLI for 10 years. Rita did management consulting for 40 years.

142: Intelligence and the US Intelligence Community
MARK ROTH
Nine Thursdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 23
Online Only
This course presents an overview of intelligence activities and the US Intelligence Community provided by a retired US Intelligence Community senior executive. The key objective of this course is to understand the “ground truth” about intelligence and the Intelligence Community rather than what you may know from movies, TV, fiction, and the news media. We will examine the history and evolution of the field of intelligence, intelligence functions (e.g., analysis, collection, counter-intelligence, covert action), the organizational structure of the US Intelligence Community and oversight mechanisms, and the relationship between the Intelligence Community and its decision-maker customers. The required book is available for free download here: https://www.afio.com/publications/AFO's_Intelligence_Study_Guide_ver1_for_public_release_2020July07.pdf. This study group has a large capacity.
This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 1 hr/week.
Mark Roth is a 34-year veteran and former senior executive of the US Intelligence Community. For the first half of his career he was an all-source intelligence analyst, and in the second half, he managed inter-agency analytic, collection, and strategic human capital projects.

113: What Is to Be Done
STEPHEN ELKIN
Eight Wednesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 29
Hybrid
In this course we will first establish that the American Republic is in serious decline. What then should be done? We will consider a variety of paths of reform running from changes in institutions to reforms of the party system. We also will consider whether our understanding of citizenship has been corrupted, and wonder whether statesmanship can save us.
This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 2-3 hrs/week.
Stephen Elkin has a PhD from Harvard and has taught at Smith College, University of Pennsylvania, and the University of Maryland.

151: Middle East Institute Scholars Seminar
VIRGINIA DEROZE, OLLI COORDINATOR
7 Mondays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 27
Online Only
In one of OLLI’s most popular offerings, scholars from the Middle East Institute (MEI) will present in-depth analyses on a wide-ranging set of issues. MEI Scholars include former ambassadors, university professors, journalists, and senior government officials who are experts in their fields. This study group has a large capacity.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Lecture
Reading: No required reading.
Founded in 1946, the Middle East Institute is the oldest Washington-based institution dedicated solely to the study of the Middle East.
founders laid out a simple mandate: “To increase knowledge of the Middle East among the citizens of the United States and to promote a better understanding between the people of these two areas.”

160: Education Inequality and Demographic Transformation

MARTIN BLANK
MICHAEL USDAN
Eight Thursdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 23
Online Only
The class explores challenging education issues that will influence the future of our grandchildren and the country’s social and economic viability. Starting with a focus on changing demographics, the purpose of public education and school finance and governance, the course will examine urban education; charters and choice; persistent racial and socioeconomic segregation; the school-community relationship; and student assessment beyond testing. We will scrutinize the impact of Covid-19 and racial tensions on public schools as well as the implications of President Biden’s early childhood and community college proposals.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: Less than 1 hr/week.

Martin Blank was Director of the Coalition for Community Schools and a consultant on numerous education and social policy issues. Michael Usdan is an educator with experiences as a public school and college teacher, state higher education commissioner, and president of a college, national non-profit, and city school board.

171: Current Events and Public Policy I

JEFFREY PORTER
LEONARD KING
LOUIS NEVINS
Eight Wednesdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 22
Online Only
Lou Nevins, Leonard King, and Jeffrey Porter will lead lively discussions and debates on current events and public policy issues, focusing largely, but not exclusively, on politics, law, economics, and foreign affairs. Discussion topics, outlines, suggested readings (if any), and questions will be furnished in advance, and participants are expected to follow the news closely. It is emphasized that this is a discussion class. Thus participants are expected to take an active role in the conversations.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Discussion
Reading: Less than 1 hr/week.

Jeff Porter is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin where he earned both bachelor’s and master’s degrees. After moving to Washington, DC, he owned his own businesses for nearly 20 years. Following that, Jeff worked in the catering business at Whole Foods on P Street.
Leonard King taught at the Maret School for 43 years, including a year-long course on 20th-Century Europe. At OLLI, he has taught courses on Film, Nonviolence, and Moral Dilemmas.
Lou Nevins was a financial institutions and housing finance attorney and lobbyist for more than 35 years. He ran Washington operations for two financial trade associations and a New York law firm. He was the CEO of one of the two trade associations and a partner in the law firm for 10 years.

180: Today’s Supreme Court: A Course for Citizens
PENNY HANSEN
Nine Tuesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 21
Hybrid
This study group will explore the important cases and decisions that continue to be made by the Supreme Court under Chief Justice John Roberts. Presentation material and discussion will focus on the major Constitutional issues being decided by a clearly activist and divided court on: elections, health care, gun control, diversity, equality, climate change, the environment, religion, and presidential power. We will focus on the historical and political background of these issues and the legal philosophies of the justices, along with the procedural mysteries of this, the least well known of our three branches of government. We will read The Supreme Court: A Very Short Introduction by Linda Greenhouse and The Oath: The Obama White House and the Supreme Court by Jeffrey Toobin, along with articles on more recent cases and other supplementary material.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 1-2 hrs/week.

Penelope Hansen directed numerous programs at the Environmental Protection Agency during its first 30 years, implementing the country’s first recycling, hazardous waste, Superfund, acid rain, and technology verification programs. She was educated at Skidmore College, Johns Hopkins University, and the Kennedy School at Harvard.

185: Making a Difference? The Role of Nonprofit Organizations
JOE BELDEN
Eight Tuesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 21
Hybrid
The 1.5 million 501(c) nonprofits in the US employ more than 11 million people and take in billions a year in donations and other revenue. This study group will focus on the origins, impacts, successes, and failures of these groups. Guest speakers will include leaders and founders of prominent NGOs—both in DC and from around the US—reflecting on how they started or led their groups, what they do, and what their work has achieved. Most nonprofits are small; over 65% have annual expenses of under $100,000. The study group will emphasize anti-poverty, environmental, and human rights nonprofits—and also examine corporate philanthropy, private and community foundations, and nonprofit connections to government. The online format of this hybrid study group has a large capacity; in-person is limited.
This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 1-2 hrs/week.

Joe Belden has led several OLLI study groups since 2017. He worked for affordable housing, rural poverty, and food policy nonprofits—and still writes regularly on those issues. As Deputy Executive Director of the Housing Assistance Council from 1989–2015, he led efforts in fundraising, policy, planning, management, research, grantmaking, lending, and training.

196: The Shocking Emmett Till Story Told Through the Lens of the Law
RONALD COLLINS
7 Wednesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 22
Online Only
Decades before there was George Floyd, there was Emmett Till. It is said that the modern civil rights movement began in earnest in the wake of the brutal murder of 14 year-old Emmett Till in Mississippi in 1955, the year following the Brown v. Board of Education ruling. These seven lectures retell the story of that tragic event and the five-day trial of the two men (Roy Bryant and J.W. Milam) accused and acquitted of Till’s murder. The trial transcript from the case was missing for decades; it was not found until 2004 and not publicly released until 2007. Drawing on that transcript and news accounts from the time, the lectures will examine the role of the two radically different sheriffs who warred over jurisdiction, the character of the judge who presided over the case, the prosecutors and how they presented their arguments and surprise witnesses, and the defense’s strategies (legal, rhetorical, and racial) for swaying the all-white male jury. The lectures will center on the witnesses and the alleged victim (Carolyn Bryant). It will focus as well on the two defendants—what they said and did before, during, and after the trial. Moreover, there will be an additional focus on other unindicted actors involved in the Till kidnapping and murder. The discussion also will examine the FBI’s 2004 reopening of the case to determine if other individuals were involved. The FBI investigation of the Till murder was not completed until 2020. Finally, the Till murder is a story about a series of journalistic lies perpetuated by William Bradford Huie’s Look magazine articles and how they defined the history of the Emmett Till tragedy for decades.

This study group is not a repeat.

199: How Literature and Drama Can Illuminate Politics and Government

JAMES VERDIER

Ten Fridays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)

September 24

In-Person Only

The study group will explore and discuss how literature and drama can illuminate politics and government in ways that journalism, history, and biography often cannot. We will discuss how authors such as Ward Just, Anthony Trollope, Robert Penn Warren, C.P. Snow, Edwin O’Connor, Hilary Mantel, and William Shakespeare have provided insights into the character, incentives, motivations, and behavior of the inhabitants of the world of politics and government in a variety of different times and contexts. We will consider how much of what the authors describe depends on time and context, how much is more fundamental, and how to tell the difference.

200 PSYCHOLOGY, SOCIOLOGY, & CULTURE

201: The Evolution of Mind

CATHARINE KEATLEY

Ten Tuesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)

September 21

Online Only

What is consciousness? Did it evolve along with the evolution of our bodies? If yes, why and how? What are the origins of our minds and subjective experience? Do other animals have minds, feelings, consciousness? Peter Godfrey-Smith, author of Other Minds, has written a new book, Metazoa, in which he explores these questions through observations of animals from different phyla, sponges to vertebrates. He interweaves his sensitive, delightful experiences with these animals together with theories of cognitive evolution and mind.

I will supplement with information from neuroscience. This new approach to the study of consciousness provides us with provocative ideas bringing together mind, evolution, and subjectivity.

207: The Psychology of Parenting Adult Children

ANNE KENDALL

CAROL WEISSBROD

Eight Wednesdays (1:45 PM - 3:00 PM)

September 22

In-Person Only

Our children will always be our children. Yet, our children emerge as adults, and through our own aging process and their own development, different issues in need for closeness, consultation and advice, perspective, and priority emerge. Key thematic issues that inform the relationships between parents and their adult children are questions of—whose life is it?, validation, and boundaries.

This course will explore these issues from the perspective of the parent and the adult-child, using information from the fields of Developmental and Clinical Psychology. The course format will involve lecture, discussion of readings, and participant sharing of parent-adult/child issues relevant to thematic course content. *This

232: Workshop: Finding Your Family History

SUSAN GOODMAN

Eight Fridays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)

September 24

Online Only

This workshop aims to help members begin finding and recording basic genealogy data (birth, death, and census material); using free resources in libraries and archives as well as the internet; and contacting other researchers working on related families. Members discuss user-friendly ways to share what they have found with their own families and others by creating DIY-printed booklets, as well as digital online photo albums, blogs, and audio recordings. Membership to Ancestry.com is suggested although not required. Members may opt to give the SGL access to their trees for help during class and by email after the end of the course.

237: India: Culture, Traditions, and Gandhi

SRIMATI KARUNA

Eight Fridays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)

September 24

In-Person Only at the Gandhi Memorial Center

Join us for an exploration of the rich cultural diversity of India. Each week we will engage in interactive sessions with presentations by musicians, dancers, artists, and scholars from the Indian sub-continent. Come engage with performers of Indian classical music and dance. Enjoy subjects by guest speakers such as Indian art, architecture, textiles, Gandhian philosophy, and the spiritual heritage of India. Each session will add new layers of perspective of the culture and tradition. This study group will take place at the Gandhi Memorial Center, 4748 Western Ave., Bethesda, MD 20816.

242: Marketing II

MONICA BATRA

Eight Tuesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)

September 21

Online Only

This class is a continuation of Marketing from the spring—what makes a big brand succeed? The focus will continue to be on consumer packaged-goods companies and will include some service industries where we will explore how these brands disrupted the industry, or have stayed relevant, while learning about marketing concepts that have helped these brands succeed. The class will have the same format of lecture, TED talk videos, and commercials as Marketing I. We will explore different brands from the spring course and continue to learn about marketing concepts not presented in the earlier course. Class will follow the same case-study approach as the Spring where marketing concepts will be integrated into a case study where examples will illustrate the concept being discussed. Both previous and new class members welcome!

244: Survivors and Descendants of the Holocaust: A Search for Meaning

EDWARD FEINBERG
Ten Mondays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 27
In-Person Only
This study group focuses on the lives of Holocaust Survivors and their descendants. Overarching question: What is the legacy of immeasurable loss? This highly interactive class will feature presentations, review of articles, and discussion.

1. Catastrophe and Survival: 1939-1945
2. Concept of trauma and its application to Survivor families
3. Early post-war Survivor experiences: Silence, disbelief
4. Later post-war experiences: Eichmann Trial, Aging of Survivors
5. Existential angst: Faith after Auschwitz
6. Inter-generational transmission of trauma

252: Exploring Our Hidden Brain: How Emotions Shape Our Decisions

CARL WEICHEL
KIM WEICHEL
Eight Wednesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 22
Online Only
How do our emotions influence our behavior and life choices? How does our “hidden brain” make important decisions in our lives without our awareness? In this course we’ll explore topics ranging from roles of social conformity to snapshots of our prejudices.
Data-driven research has shown that most human decisions are triggered unconsciously through over 135 emotions, from falling in love to following a career path to nations going to war. The book and NPR radio series “The Hidden Brain” by Shankar Vedantam draw intriguing arcs from social psychology to our embedded cultural norms. And while social cues influence interactions, they also can create hazards. We’ll listen to podcasts, review research, and have interactive discussions.

289: Understanding Addiction

ROGER MEYER
Nine Wednesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 29
In-Person Only

This course will commence with a brief history of addiction and its consequences, including efforts to confront the problems of alcohol and opioid addictions in the 19th, 20th, and 21st centuries. We will include segments of films that highlight problems with alcohol in men and women, opioid addiction, and other substance-use disorders. We plan to amplify these stories through personal testimony by active members of Alcoholics Anonymous during one of the classes. We will review the neurobiology underlying addiction, as well as the political and socioeconomic factors that contribute to the risk of drug/alcohol use and addiction; and, we will review successful and failed national, community, and personal efforts to address drug and alcohol use, as well as epidemics. We will review extant approaches to treatment, as well as a novel approach to the prevention of substance use among the young. In the final session, we will be joined by the first White House Drug Czar, whose work has been captured in the book, The Fix, by Michael Massing.

292: Living Healthier and Happier in Retirement—Essential Steps

BRAD BICKFORD
Nine Mondays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 20
In-Person Only

Do you want to live longer and experience life to its fullest? Do you want to have more energy and find fulfillment in retirement? Learn how exercise, a healthy diet, and socializing will impact your brain and body to prevent or slow down the onset of dementia, depression, or high blood pressure. Find out how drinking water first thing in the morning is critical for the brain. Do you want to get healthier by learning what common household products such as the soap, lotion, or deodorant you use daily can negatively impact your body? The course not only identifies the essential element of what makes us the most happy, but examines the critical role of laughter and play in our well being. The course also will cover topics like the mind/body connection, nature bathing, what bacteria found outside is good for us, spirituality, how men and women are different biochemically and physically, and how to enhance your family and personal relationships. We will use lecture, TED talks, discussion, fun exercises, a Tibetan singing bowl, and laughter.

361: Behavioral Economics
WILLIAM DANEOY
Eight Wednesdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 22
Online Only
Coupling discoveries in human psychology with studies of consumer and market behavior, the development of behavioral economics over the last 50 years has opened up new ways to look at decisionmaking. Drawing on books, writings, and videos by several of the most well-known behavioral economists, this study group will examine this new twist to “the dismal science.” Behavioral economics is the study of human biases and departures from the rational assumptions inherent in most classical economic thinking. Several prevalent themes include heuristics (mental shortcuts), framing, and market inefficiencies. A better understanding may help us make smarter investments and consumer decisions.

JEROME PAULSON
RONALD RIDKER
Eight Thursdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 23
Online Only
This will be a two-part, eight-week course. The first four sessions, to be led by Jerry Paulson, will cover the impacts of climate change with an emphasis on the health consequences, environmental justice, and how one might get involved (based on presentations by leaders of local organizations). Reading materials will be provided by email. The second four sessions, to be led by Ronald Ridker, will focus on two other dimensions: Decarbonization (is it necessary; can it be done; what policies would be needed) and what the international community has done so far and plans to do. Readings will include Bill Gates’ new book, How to Avoid a Climate Disaster, and materials to be sent by email. This study group has a large capacity.

377: Understanding Trade Issues
P. LANCE GRAEF
Ten Mondays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 20
Hybrid
The World Trade Organization was once the baseline for world trade but was sidelined by the former US Administration. Is it still relevant, especially in the context of US/China economic and trade competition? The unresolved “trade war” between the two only has heightened the differences in the two systems of economic organization. Will other trade agreements—CPTPP, RCEP, USMCA—play an important role in the competition? What about US discussions with Japan, EU, and the UK? Were TPP and NAFTA the worst trade agreements ever negotiated? Previous participants are not only welcome but encouraged to attend the discussions. 403: Drinking Water from A to Z. What You Should Know. Is It Safe?

JOSEPH COTRUVO
Eight Mondays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 20
Online Only
The class will overview drinking water history, composition, chemical and microbial quality, treatment, and safety regulations.

Is drinking water in the US and the DC area safe? What should you know before you buy bottled water and home treatment devices? It will address water shortages, desalination and water recycling, water DNA analyses, and also coronavirus tracking in sewage. It will review several publicized drinking water issues including: Flint and lead (what really happened), Chrome VI (Erin Brockovich), perfluorochemicals (PFAS), algal blooms and toxins, perchlorate, microplastic particles in food and water, legionellosis, and disinfection by-products.

415: Science and Public Policy

ARTHUR KATZ
Eight Wednesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 22
Online Only

Precision medicine, climate change, artificial intelligence/machine learning, cybersecurity, the microbial world/Covid 19, and the challenge of nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons are topics that epitomize the intersection of science and public policy. These topics and others will be examined as emblematic of the critical role science plays in almost every aspect of our world, and the opportunities and challenges it poses for society. The course will provide a balanced examination of both the underlying science, and how those advances pose public-policy challenges and, in some cases, very real personal choices. In a world that increasingly sidelines fact-based science understanding these connections is important.

We will look at a new management approach, Exponential Organizations, that has been developed in order to cope with and take advantage of the rapid changes that are taking place throughout our economy and society. The changes are due to numerous exponentially-developing technologies (such as Artificial Intelligence, Nanotechnology, Quantum Computing, Robotics, 3D Printing, Blockchain, and Biotechnology) that are transforming every aspect of human existence. The objective of the ExO approach is to enable startups and diversifications based on disruptive innovation to succeed and to develop 10 times faster than is the case with traditional organizations. KENNETH HINGA
Nine Wednesdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
October 06
Hybrid
This class examines the basics behind selected environmental issues that we may face. These will include climate change, genetically modified organisms, marine dead zones, nuclear radiation and wastes, persistent organic pollutants, crude oil, and pesticides. It is intended to give the participant a foundation for making informed decisions in their daily lives. Along the way, we will look at some of the workings of scientific endeavors to help the participant identify credible information sources. The course materials are aimed at the non-scientist, so no scientific background is required. The online format of this hybrid study group has a high class size capacity; in-person is limited.

480: The Ups and Downs of Weather
PAUL BROWN
Ten Tuesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 21
Online Only
This is a beginner’s guide to weather and climate, for which at least a rudimentary familiarity with science will be helpful, but not necessary. The first half of the course will focus on the principal elements that underlie weather—heat, wind, and water—and the second half will show how they interact to produce the major types of “bad” weather: frontal storms, thunderstorms, supercells, tornadoes, derechos, and hurricanes. The course will conclude with single sessions devoted to the environment (especially global warming) and to atmospheric optics (blue sky, rainbows, halos, auroras, etc.). Out-of-class forecasting instruction will be available for any interested class members, including real-time forecasts for the DC area. A profusely illustrated, spiral-bound booklet written for the course can be purchased for the printing cost of $35 (optional but highly recommended both as a guide to the lectures and as a useful work of reference). Class members will receive more information about when and where to purchase the book.

GRAHAM ATKINSON
Eight Tuesdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 21
Online Only
This course will examine the role that mathematics has played in works of fiction, and to a lesser extent, the way it has inspired artists and poets. It also will explain some of the major mathematical concepts that recur in fiction and point you to works that make use of these ideas. It also will discuss some works of art that have a clear mathematical inspiration. No prior mathematical knowledge will be required, and there will be no required reading, but I hope the course will inspire you to explore some of the books discussed. Themes will include mathematics in: science fiction, the works of Lewis Carroll, Flatland and its successors, fictional biographies, murder mysteries, art, and poetry. The human immune system is a remarkably complex, resilient, and powerful biological mechanism for protecting us against infection and disease. It can distinguish between alien invaders of our body (bacteria and viruses), and the body's own cells and microbiome—eliminating the former and protecting the latter. However, it can at times misfire and attack the body's own cells, leading to autoimmune diseases. In this study group, we will explore in some detail the operation and components of both the innate and adaptive immune systems. New therapies to fight cancer have resulted from our expanded understanding of the immune system, as well as novel techniques to fight viral infections such as the coronavirus.

LARRY GONDELMAN
Ten Wednesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 22
Hybrid

Sex, drugs, and rock’ n roll are common themes in Rock ’n Roll songs. In this class, each week we’ll focus on one subject about which rockers often sing and watch videos of 15 to 20 songs. While we will discover interesting facts about the songs and the artists, the emphasis will be on simply rockin’ out to songs that are about the same topic. Other categories will include God and the Devil; Time; Death; Dreams; Magic; Freedom; and Home. Most of the artists and songs will be from the 1960s and 1970s (such as Jerry Lee Lewis, The Beatles, Bob Dylan, The Rolling Stones, The Animals, The Who, The Rascals, The Doors, Stevie Wonder, Simon & Garfunkel, Carole King, Bruce Springsteen, Bob Seger, and many more), although a couple of songs each week will introduce the class to great songs by lesser known and more contemporary artists. The online format of this hybrid study group has a large capacity; in-person is limited.

A building is part of history and, by really looking, we can see details that illuminate the culture and technology of its time. When describing a house or an office building, we often use terms like “Colonial,” “Victorian,” or “Modern,” yet these don’t accurately define the style or suggest the reasons for it. Spotting details you may have never noticed before will give you a vocabulary—a quick understanding of basic structure from load-bearing walls to steel skeleton skyscrapers. The class’s visual survey of historic to current architecture might inspire you to explore your neighborhood to find examples of great (and sometimes not so great) architecture. We’ll establish an email conversation with photos and you can practice your skill as a design critic. We end with a “Fun Final,” a review exam to test your design recall. The online format of this hybrid study group has a large capacity; in-person is limited.

560: Doing Art with Collage
ROSE MOSNER
Eight Wednesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 22
In-Person Only
Collage is the perfect medium for getting your creative juices flowing. Using a variety of materials, we will immerse ourselves in creativity: color, composition, imagery, and texture. In this class you will have a weekly assignment to be done at home. We will meet via the computer to look at the work, share, and learn. A background in art/collage is helpful. This study group is a repeat.

Class Format: Appreciation
Reading: No required reading.

Rose Mosner taught art in New York City schools for 22 years. With budgets for supplies very low, she canvassed neighborhood stores for fabric scraps, leftover wool skeins, wallpaper sample books, and the local lumberyard for wood scraps. Thus began her love of found-object collage. Rose’s work has been in many juried shows, and she recently had a solo show at the Iona Gallery. She is also one of only ten artists involved with a special program for artists over 62 sponsored by Columbia University.

591: This Is Your Brain on Architecture: Neuroscience in the Trenches
MILTON SHINBERG
Ten Fridays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 24
Online Only
This course is a series of talks that reconsiders traditional architectural thinking and design approaches in light of insights from cognitive neuroscience, perception, art, and evolution. The thesis of the course is that architecture can be seen through the lens of how our brains apprehend and process environmental information and cognitive/aesthetic processing. The approach helps explain certain aesthetic biases in art as well as architecture, along with specific perceptual mechanisms that are foundational in perceiving architecture. The course also looks at incorporating emotional (limbic) and body-specific (kinesthetic) aspects that are significant aspects of architectural experience. This study group has a large capacity. This study group is not a repeat.

607: Beginning-plus Spanish

SUSAN SCHNEIDER
Ten Thursdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 23
In-Person Only
This conversational study group enables students with some exposure to Spanish to improve their fluency, pronunciation, and language skills. The course stresses listening and speaking, more than reading and writing. The class will be challenging for true beginners, pero bienvenidos a todos! It focuses on everyday vocabulary and “street” Spanish. The study group uses the book, Spanish for Dummies, 2nd edition. One hour of homework is required for each class. Those who practice daily will find it easier to learn greetings, directions, and how to communicate with their Hispanic neighbors. In addition to the required book, class members also can download SpanishDict at https://www.spanishdict.com

617: The Great French Songbook

LISA HARPER
Ten Mondays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 20
In-Person Only
This course will explore the great French songs of the 1950s and 1960s through videos, audiotapes, and class presentations. The class will focus on such artists as Edith Piaf, Charles Aznavour, and Juliette Greco, and the poetic songs they interpreted. Students will practice speaking, listening, and singing (optional) in French. Members of the class, who so desire, will make oral presentations about their favorite French singer. An intermediate knowledge of French is required for full participation in the class. Those who wish to revive their French through listening are also welcome. This is a French conversation class with a specialized focus, not a music appreciation or social history class. This study group is not a repeat.

630: Then and Now: Daring to Rewrite Bronte and Gaskell

LINDA FREEMAN
Eight Mondays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 20
Online Only
We will read four novels, two masterpieces from the 19th century and two 20th-century versions of the same stories. Charlotte Bronte’s Jane Eyre will be paired with Jean Rhys’s powerful and haunting Wide Sargasso Sea; Elizabeth Gaskell’s North and South will be read with David Lodge’s slyly hilarious Nice Work. We will consider author biographies, historical contexts, and why any writer would want to risk creating a new version of a celebrated novel. Spoiler alerts: Mr. Rochester will never seem quite the same after Rhys is through with him, and North and South is NOT a novel about the American Civil War.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: More than 3 hrs/week.
Linda Freeman, PhD, a retired University of Maryland lecturer in Victorian literature, also has taught for Smithsonian Associates and led many OLLI literature study groups.

631: Understanding Families Through Plays

KAREN GAIL LEWIS
Eight Mondays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 20
Online Only
We start with The Deer and the Antelope Play, by Mark Dunn. This is a story of three generations of women, stuck in their lives. Staying with females, our second play is Sisters Rosensweig, by Wendy Wasserman, about three very different siblings. Next, we’ll read Moon for the Misbegotten, by Eugene O’Neill, the sequel to Long Day’s Journey. We’ll conclude with Other Desert Cities, by Jon Robin Baitz, in which a sister is publishing a memoir exposing a tragic family event. We discuss each play for two weeks, focusing on themes, i.e., family/sibling relationships, gender roles, multi-generational patterns, and gender issues. This is an entertaining, interactive class. Reading each play beforehand will enrich participation.
This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Discussion
Reading: 1 hr/week.
Karen Gail Lewis has been a family therapist for over four decades. She has published numerous books and articles about family relationships. She has taught at OLLI for over a decade.

640: Bible Story, Your Story: Poetry Reveals Scripture

GERRY HENDERSHOT
Eight Thursdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 23
Online Only
We will read stories from the Hebrew bible, elucidations of the stories by Scott Cairns in his poem series, The Recovered Midrashim of Rabbi Sab, and additional modern poems that struggle with the same moral and ethical issues. Through discussion and writing, we will relate the stories and poems to our own lives. Biblical stories will include Adam and Eve, Jonah and the Whale, the Sacrifice of Isaac, and others. Among our poets will be Walt Whitman, James Weldon Johnson, Natalie Diaz, and others. Group members are expected to write and share in discussion an original poem (or two) based on scripture and their lives. No prior experience in reading, writing, or discussing poetry (or scripture) is assumed.
This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Discussion
Reading: 1-2 hrs/week.
Gerry Hendershot has studied and taught both Hebrew scripture and modern poetry, including OLLI study groups on Famous Poems About Famous Paintings and African-American Poetry, and is the author of a number of published poems. He was on the faculties of several universities and retired from the Centers for Disease Control.

646: Poetry Craftshop: Between My Eyes Is Always the Rain, the Migrant Rain

JENNY PIERSON
Ten Tuesdays (9:45 AM - 12:30 PM)
September 21
In-Person Only
For serious poets who wish to strengthen their skills and heart, this semester we will study the lineage from the Chinese T’ang Dynasty poet, Li Po (ce 712-760), through the contemporary poets Li-young Lee (b.1957) and Ocean Vuong (b.1989). As Asian immigrant poets, Lee and Vuong bring a specific, shared literary history to their work. Both poetry and memoir will offer us ways to examine loss and identity from their perspective. Reading specific works on weekly assignment will teach us how to shape our own original poems. Deep discussion on technique and voice, as well as analysis of each other’s work constitute the course.
This study group is not a repeat.

Class Format: Reading and Discussion
Reading: More than 3 hrs/week.

651: A Writing Workshop:
Writing Down the Bones
EDWARD WARD
PATRICIA SPECTOR
Eight Tuesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 21
Online Only
This workshop is for people who like to write or think they might like to write and who find it helpful to have a setting or stimulus to actually sit down and write. Each session consists of two or more spells of writing in response to a short prompt. After writing for 10-15 minutes, participants have the opportunity—but are not required—to share what they have written. Positive feedback is encouraged; critical feedback can be requested. The common prompts lead participants in surprisingly different directions. The format was established by Brock Hansen, who led the workshop in earlier years. It draws on ideas about writing practice presented in Natalie Goldberg’s book, Writing Down the Bones.
This study group is a repeat.
Class Format: Appreciation
Reading: No required reading.
Patricia Spector and Edward Ward participated in the workshop several times with Brock Hansen. When Brock was unable to continue the workshop, they agreed to co-lead it on an informal basis during the Spring 2018 semester and have continued it as a regular OLLI offering since then.

653: Plagues We Have Known
SUSAN UROFSKY
Eight Tuesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 21
Online Only
Looking back in time we can discover what major upheavals such as Covid-19 require of individuals and cultures. Even in the Bible, there were plagues. Through active discussion, this study group will explore what scared people, the nature of the damage, and the impact of attempted solutions. We will read and discuss fiction and nonfiction to better understand the story of our current pandemic, note parallels with past pandemics, and reach toward the future. Two required books are listed for the course. Others are optional.
This study group is a repeat with revisions.
Class Format: Reading and Discussion
Reading: 2-3 hrs/week.
Susan Urofsky enjoys OLLI as a participant and as a study group leader. An English major, her later career emphasized effective and efficient governance and service delivery in the nonprofit and government sectors. She held leadership positions with JLARC and the Health and Human Services Secretariat in Virginia.

655: Tennessee Williams and the Golden Age of American Theater
RONALD PARLATO
Ten Mondays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 20
Hybrid
The course will study six major works of Tennessee Williams, two of Arthur Miller, and one of Eugene O'Neill. The purpose of the course is to describe, define, and illustrate Williams’s particular lyricism, poetic genius, and dramatic personal insights; and to compare and contrast them with the morality plays of Miller and the emotional realism of O’Neill’s mature work. The Williams plays have been selected for their individual character and common themes; and because they express the range of his dramatic talents. Those of Miller and O’Neill have been chosen for their power and their representation of the playwrights’ major dramatic concerns.
This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 2 hrs/week.
Ronald Parlato has been teaching literature at OLLI for more than five years. 657: Middlemarch, by George Eliot
LESLIE FRANTZ
Eight Thursdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 30
In-Person Only
George Eliot’s Middlemarch is considered by some to be the ultimate Great Big Victorian Novel. Of the handful of contenders for this honor, Eliot’s great work may be the wisest and the most intellectually informed. The novel is divided into eight books. We will study it one book at a time, with an eye to characterization, social and historical background, and the carefully woven plot. This study group is a repeat.

Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 2-3 hrs/week.

Leslie Frantz has a Master’s degree in English literature from Georgetown University and taught in the Georgetown University Continuing Education Department for over 20 years. She has taught many courses on English literature for OLLI.

BARBARA MOLDAUER
CARL WEICHEL
Eight Tuesdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 21
Online Only

Since 1896, the weekly New York Times Book Review (NYTBR) has helped America’s curious, general-interest readers stay informed about new books and numerous interesting topics. Over time, the book industry has evolved with self-publishing, audio books, printless digital formats, and now, radio podcasts. One of the highlights of NYTBR is how it selects 20-30 books from emerging and seasoned authors that are reviewed by freelance literary critics, novelists, and academics. A lure of the “Book Review Podcast” is how host Pamela Paul’s interviewing style probes nuanced views from authors. During each class, we’ll hear 2-4 podcasts, have volunteers summarize featured print reviews, then enjoy class conversations and become knowledgeable with the current must-reads.

This study group is a repeat with revisions.

Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: Less than 1 hr/week.

Barbara Moldauer has worked as a speechwriter and scribe for energy, education, and labor organizations for audiences ranging from Congress to coal miners on issues running the gamut from aspirin to vouchers. 671: From the Age of Theatre to the Age of Rhetoric

ANDREW WHITE
Nine Fridays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 24

Hybrid

Andy White returns with a puzzle for you to solve: what happened to Greek Drama? After Athens’ golden age, and after the triumph of mass entertainment under the Roman Empire, dramatic literature disappears. What takes its place? We will explore what the descendants of Aeschylus, Euripides, and Aristophanes are up to, as they study drama in grammar school, in order to become stand-up performers (i.e., rhetors), who entertain each other at after-hours soirées they call “theatres.” They become professionals, but of a very different kind. The online format of this hybrid study group has a large capacity; in-person is limited.

Andrew Walker White has been teaching at OLLI for a few years now—quite a few. He is an actor, playwright, theatre critic, and a scholar of theatre history as well—ask him about Byzantium, too, when you get the chance!

681: Three Oedipus Plays by Sophocles

SUSAN WILLENS
Eight Mondays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 20
Online Only

The class will discuss and occasionally read aloud three classic plays by Sophocles from Three Theban Plays: Antigone; Oedipus the King; Oedipus at Colonus, translated by Robert Fagles.

This study group is a repeat with revisions.

Class Format: Discussion
Reading: 2-3 hrs/week.

Susan Willens has taught at OLLI for several years and looks forward to a new year with new works to investigate.

688: Performing Our Town

CAROL LIGHT
Ten Thursdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 23
Online Only

Thornton Wilder’s play, Our Town, takes the simple events of everyday life—“the way we were in our growing up and in our marrying and in our doctoring and in our living and in our dying”— transforming them into universal experiences. Actors and audiences find Our Town to be strong stuff, often evoking very powerful emotions—and we will be both actors and audience. We will read the play aloud, see excerpts from recorded performances featuring Paul Newman and Hal Holbrook, among others, and discuss the text, its structure, and range of ideas, as well as performance issues. Finally, assuming enough participants are willing, we will do a Zoom performance of some or all of the play for the OLLI community.

This study group is not a repeat.

Class Format: Reading and Discussion

Reading: Less than 1 hr/week.

Carol Light directed an OLLI group which presented several staged readings, including Wilder’s Skin of Our Teeth. Additionally, she has led seven Shakespeare study groups, each examining one play and how the performance choices of actors, directors, and other artists combine to make a unique experience for all participants.

690: Anthony Trollope’s The Prime Minister (Palliser 5)

ELLEN MOODY

Ten Mondays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)

September 20

Online Only

The 5th Palliser refocuses us on Plantagenet and Lady Glen, now Duke and Duchess of Omnium. Phineas and Marie (Madame Max) and Finn are characters in the story of the Duke and Duchess’s political education as he takes office and she becomes a political hostess. We delve into practical politics and philosophies asking what are political power, patronage, elections, and how can you use these realities/events. A new group of characters provide a story of corrupt stockbroking, familial, marital, and sexual conflicts, and violence. And what power have women? We’ll also read Trollope’s short colonialist Orwellian The Fixed Period, and short online writing by Victorian women (Caroline Norton, Harriet Martineau, Francis Power Cobb, and Margaret Oliphant).

This study group is not a repeat.

Class Format: Lecture and Discussion

Reading: 2 hrs/week.

Ellen Moody holds a PhD in English literature and has taught in colleges for more than 30 years and at OLLI for seven. She’s published on Trollope, film adaptations, and 18th- and 19th-century literature. At OLLI, she has taught Trollope’s Barsetshire and Palliser fiction, his short stories, 19th-century novels by women, Booker Prize novels, and Virginia Woolf.

695: One-Offs, Odd Lots, and Nonpareils: Idea-Driven Remarkable Fictions

JUDITH PLOTZ

Ten Wednesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)

September 22

In-Person Only

In this study group, we will read a series of rich and strange fictions—idea-driven narratives that play philosophical and metaphysical games in the pursuit of serious religious, political, and ethical issues. What unites these texts—besides their bravura excellence—is their intense originality, deep playfulness, and surprising brevity. We’ll read works by Borges, Diderot (Rameau’s Nephew), Dostoievski (Grand Inquisitor), Erofeev (Moscow to the End of the Line), Orwell (Animal Farm), Ozick (Envy; or Yiddish in America), Rushdie (Haroun and the Sea of Stories), Sciascia (To Each His Own), Segal (Her First American), Trilling (Middle of the Journey), and Voltaire (Candide).

This study group is a repeat with revisions.

Class Format: Lecture and Discussion

Reading: 2-3 hrs/week.

Judith Plotz taught for almost 50 years at GWU, specializing and publishing in British Romanticism, postcolonialism, and children’s literature. She has taught a number of OLLI courses, most recently Italian Jewish Literature.

701: The Myth and Reality of the Wild West

JOHN VORHES

Ten Tuesdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)

September 21

Hybrid

Many Americans are nostalgic for the mythic period known as the “Wild West” (1865–1895), when we boldly settled the Great Plains and the Far West. But the idea of moving the frontier from the Appalachians west into the heartland and beyond took root much earlier, after our independence and our successes over rival European powers that had laid claim to the land. The concept of Manifest Destiny gained popularity before the Civil War and then after, when trails were crowded with adventurers and entrepreneurs. The way we spread our civilization is an arguable achievement, especially when you take into account the Native Americans who were the original residents. In 1893, we celebrated the end of the frontier with a grand exposition in Chicago where the frontier was declared “ended.” The entire saga is now a beloved blur to many of us, shaded by the myth that has often colored the reality. Here we study the reality and maybe discover the birth of what some think is our national character. The online format of this hybrid study group has a large capacity; in-person is limited.

John Vorhes is a retired industrial and architectural designer with a love affair with the American West. Born in New York City, his family roots go back to frontier Kansas and his personal research expanded his interest. His 50-year design career includes SOM, architects in NY, and USIA’s Cultural Exchange Program in Washington.

702: Cruising with OLLI: Cruise Ship Lectures Around the World

JOSEPH SNYDER
NICK GLAKAS

Eight Tuesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 21
Online Only

Two experienced cruise-ship lecturers will draw on talks that they have given around the world, covering areas as diverse as Polynesia, Morocco, Venice, and New Zealand. They were designed to give cruise-ship passengers background on and a deeper appreciation of their destinations. This study group has a large capacity.

Joe Snyder served 30 years in the US Foreign Service in Thailand, Iran, Taiwan, Malaysia, Austria, and Washington. After his government service, Joe headed the American Australian Association in New York, the Asia Society Washington Center, and the Asia Program at the Atlantic Council in Washington. For 11 years, he lectured on cruise ships, jet tours, and land tours. He studied international relations at Georgetown and Yale.

Nick Glakas is a retired lawyer and Smithsonian lecturer. For the past eight years, he has lectured on cruise ships around the world as well as at Cambridge, Georgetown, and George Washington Universities. He has clerked for two federal judges, served as general counsel of the Senate Appropriations Committee, been senior vice president of ITT Corporation, and president of two college associations. He is a former naval officer who served aboard a destroyer and an LST in the Mekong Delta, later attending law school at Georgetown and Cambridge.

710: Seven Photographers Documenting 20th-Century America

ELEANOR GREENE

Nine Thursdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 23
Online Only

We will focus on seven photographers—Lewis Hine, Dorothea Lange, Walker Evans, Gordon Parks, Roy De Carava, Esther Bubley, and Danny Lyon—who created images that picture America from 1904 to 2000. Photographs, like other historical sources, are interpretations, versions of “reality” that document facts, express ideas and opinions, and also tell stories. We’ll begin with a session on 20th-century themes and note some strategies for interpreting photographs. Then we’ll spend a session on each photographer considering his or her historical context and life experiences, and examine a selection of photographs asking these questions: What is this picture about? How, why, and for whom was it taken? How was it used?

Class Format: Lecture and Discussion

Reading: 1 hr/week.

Elly Greene has taught history, trained teachers, and designed curricula, for about 30 years in Massachusetts, Northern Virginia, and DC. She led OLLI study groups on Eleanor Roosevelt, the Laurel Grove School, the Progressives, Making the History of 1989, and four years ago, on Seven Photographers Documenting 20th-Century America.

715: Jewish History and Life: Patriarchs to Israel

JOSH (JONATHAN) BERMAN

Ten Thursdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 23
Online Only

Judaism has been present for 4,000 years. We will survey Judaism from the Patriarchs to the State of Israel, with the aim of understanding how Judaism was able to survive 40 centuries and be part of our present world. Equal emphasis will be placed on historic events and Jewish life during those periods of history. The two texts—Scheindlin, which is short and clear, and Johnson, which is longer and more provocative—will be supplemented by original source handouts, some of which are excellent, and videos from Ori Soltes’ “Jewish Art” series. With two texts and handouts, there is a large amount of recommended reading each week to get the full depth of the content and benefit of the session. This overview of a vast swath of history is intended for Jews who wish to have a firmer understanding of their heritage and non-Jews interested in the Jewish story. This study group has a large capacity.

Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: More than 3 hrs/week.
Jonathan (Josh) Berman, MD, PhD, FASTMH, is not a professional historian, but rather is a Jewish-American with a lifelong interest in his religious heritage.

740: Race in America 1864 to the Present
KAREN STEWART
Ten Thursdays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 23
Online Only
In this course we will follow the struggle of this nation to finish its revolution of racial equality begun in 1863 with the Emancipation Proclamation. Through lecture, outside reading, and discussion, we will examine the uneven path through Reconstruction, redemption, Jim Crow, and the civil rights movement that leads to our present. We will look at the forces and individuals who have moved us forward as well as the counterforces and individuals who have moved us backwards. The online format of this hybrid study group has a large capacity; in-person is limited.
This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Lecture
Reading: 1-2 hrs/week.

747: Poisonous Places: Historical Perspective on Toxins in the Home, Workplace, and Environment
JOHN PARASCANDOLA
7 Thursdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 23
Online Only
Poisonous substances in the home, workplace, and environment always have presented a health hazard, but urbanization, the Industrial Revolution, and increased use of chemicals in daily life have greatly magnified this problem since the late 18th century. This study group will focus on the history of these toxins and their impact on humans, while also considering their continuing presence in our society. The poisons examined will include mercury, phosphorous, arsenic, radium, and lead. Examples of some of the issues to be discussed include mercury and “mad hatters,” the “radium girls” poisonings, lead in paint and gasoline, arsenic in wallpapers, pesticide residues in food, and “phossy jaw” in match workers. This study group has a large capacity.
This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 1-2 hrs/week.
John Parascandola has a PhD in the history of science from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He has served as a historian in the federal government and on the faculty of the Universities of Wisconsin and Maryland (where he taught, among other subjects, courses on the history of poisons and on the history of public health). He is the author of several books and has taught five OLLI classes.

773: The Legacy of “The Great War” — Too Soon to Tell?
RICHARD PALMER
Eleven Wednesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 22
Online Only
After a nod toward the pre-1914 order and the last decisive year of the war, then the conditions of 1919, the course will look at major transformations wrought upon the world by WWI. The focus will be topical, not chronological, and generally on what may be regarded as “permanent” changes in light of subsequent history.
from the perspective of the present. Emphasis will be on political, ideological, economic, and social legacies. This is an actively participative study group rather than a passive “lecture course.” We’ll mostly use online resources or downloadable book or article extracts. Members may opt to present subtopics of interest—e.g., cultural or literary elements—that might otherwise be neglected. Only online or downloadable reading material will be assigned, but class members may want to consult other texts or books on the subject matter of the study group. This study group has a large capacity.

Many historians use the term “boom” to illustrate the 1950s in a variety of ways: the flourishing economy, the record-setting birthrate, and the fearful consequence of nuclear war. Some OLLI members will remember the era; others will not. This study group reviews that decade’s significant historical events and trends, popular culture, politics, and fads. The approach in weekly sessions is thematic and augmented with lots of optional material—selected readings and audio and video of the period. This study group is highly participatory. Members compare different experiences and perspectives of the decade; with this in mind, we ask each member to provide his/her age and living situation on October 4, 1957—the date of the Sputnik launch.

790: Off the Beaten Path in the DC Area

RALPH BUGLASS

Ten Tuesdays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)

September 21

Online Only

As the nation’s capital, our area is replete with well-known historical attractions tourists swarm to. But there are many other lesser known yet equally interesting landmarks and spots worth visiting—or at least knowing about. Come hear about—and experience through lavishly illustrated slides—some of these little-known gems and the fascinating stories behind them. Examples include presidential monuments and commemoratives in unexpected places; reminders of World War II and the area’s rich African American history; Gilded Age mansions around DuPont Circle; buildings by Frank Lloyd Wright and other noted architects; early mills that still work; cemeteries that come to life with stories of those interred; and more. This study group has a large capacity.

794: Eight American Stories
(as Told by Master Historians)
MARION CONNELL
Eight Mondays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 20
Hybrid
This class and its text are an outgrowth of a series of interviews conducted by David Rubenstein on PBS. Each chapter focuses on a significant figure in American history as seen by a major historian who authored a well-received biography on the subject. The text was a best seller and well reviewed by critics. Participants will read and discuss one chapter each week. This study group is not a repeat.
Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: 1-2 hrs/week.
Marion Connell graduated from Mount Holyoke College with an AB degree in political science and philosophy. She has a master's degree in public administration plus over 30 years experience in local, state, and Federal government. Marion has lectured in the School of Public Affairs at American University.

800 PHILOSOPHY & RELIGION

805: Meditation Class
JOSEPH REO
Eight Fridays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 24
Online Only
In this class we will meditate together as a group. The primary goal of this course is the systematic, eight-week, on-going commitment, that we come together, weekly, at this same time, with the simple intention to regularly practice the discipline of meditation. It doesn’t matter if you’ve never meditated in your life, or if you’ve done it for 20 years with your own lovely mantra, and years-long routine. I’ll guide us through various “styles,” some perhaps leading us somewhere, some taking us potentially, to a quiet nowhere. We will practice several short meditations each class, or just one. We’ll debrief at the end of the session to talk about what works, what didn’t, what was helpful/useful, and what wasn’t. And we’ll be open to attendees who may wish to take the lead and guide us through a session towards the end. You can show us your style via your years of experience, or just jump in, having fun being adventurous guiding us for the first time. Anyone, and all forays or experimentation into leading, will be welcome.

806: Medical Chi Kung
JOSEPH REO
Ten Mondays (9:45 AM - 10:45 AM)
September 20
Online Only
In Asia, for thousands of years, overall health, fitness, and well-being, always have considered mind, body, and spirit as a whole. This class will introduce the practice and medical benefits of Chinese Chi Kung, or Qigong, the centuries-old Chinese method of “healing movement.” We will exercise together blending action, breathing, and imagination, to physically energize the body, and promote overall well-being. Through rhythmic movement, relaxed breathing, and mental focus, we’ll practice simple forms, together as a group, to stimulate and heal specific organs and organ-systems in the body. The easy-to-perform, simple “mudras” will gently release tight muscles, soften ligaments, and coax the lengthening of tendons, which can diminish joint pain and improve balance. You’ll be able to follow along with something, no matter the state of health you are in. You may even learn to feel, and potentially direct the flow of “Chi” to and through specific areas of you body, where you need it most. Exercise modifications will be shown, when requested. Dress comfortably, we’ll start training the first day.

Note: Before participating in any exercise program, participants should check with their doctors to ensure that there are no contraindications, special considerations, or limitations from a medical standpoint. This study group meets for one hour, from 9:45 to 10:45 AM.

831: Mastering Skills of Mindfulness Meditation

JEFFREY DROBIS
SUSAN DROBIS

Ten Mondays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)
September 20
Online Only

In this study group, you will learn mindfulness skills to rewire your brain to help make you a happier and more compassionate person. Mindfulness enhances our capacity for managing anxiety, stress, intense emotions, and uncertainty, and increases our capacity to experience deep fulfillment. We primarily will practice techniques that we have learned from Shinzen Young to use both in sitting meditation practice and in ordinary life. Sessions will include instruction, guided meditations, and group discussion. Although there is no required reading, participants should plan to practice meditation on their own for at least 10 minutes on most days. This study group is appropriate for both beginners and experienced meditators.

This study group is a repeat.

Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: No required reading.

Susan Drobis, a retired psychotherapist, and Jeffrey Drobis, a retired MD, have practiced meditation for over 25 years. Their teacher Shinzen Young draws on traditional Asian practices but is consciously secular and contemporary. Susan has been teaching mindfulness for 20 years and Jeffrey has led meditation study groups at OLLI since 2015.

834: Mastering Skills of Mindfulness Meditation: Intermediate Level

JEFFREY DROBIS

Ten Mondays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 20
Online Only

This study session is similar to another offering, Mastering the Skills of Mindful Awareness Practice. It is intended for persons who have taken other study groups with me. If you have not worked with me but have significant experience with meditation and are interested in this offering, please contact me at jeffdrobis@gmail.com. Classes will include instruction, extensive guided meditations, and discussions. In addition, we will devote about 10 minutes to discuss a book related to mindfulness practice (to be determined).

This study group is a repeat with revisions.

Class Format: Lecture and Discussion
Reading: Less than 1 hr/week.

838: Mommie Dearest — The Great Mother Goddesses of World Mythology

ROBERT CROOG

Eleven Mondays (1:45 PM - 3:15 PM)
September 20
Hybrid

From time immemorial, Mother Goddesses have been worshipped and revered the world over. She is the nurturing figure—the Madonna, Demeter, Parvati—a loving caregiver who protects and dotes on her children. But she also has her darker side. She appears as Lilith, Hecate, Kali—evoking stark terror, demanding blood sacrifice, devouring souls. This course will explore the Great Mother in her many faces, her stories, her place in the pantheon and what she reveals about the cultures she inhabits. The online format of this hybrid study group has a large capacity; in-person is limited.

850: A Yogi’s Approach to the Evolution of Human Consciousness as Expounded by the Teachings of Paramahansa Yogananda

WOODY CARTER

Nine Tuesdays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)
September 21
Hybrid

The aim of this study group is to explore the yogic approach to the evolution of human consciousness by examining the life and teachings of Paramahansa Yogananda, author of the spiritual classic The Autobiography of a Yogi. The group also will examine the impact of these teachings in the life of one of Yogananda's followers as depicted in the novel, Narada's Children: A Visionary Tale of Two Cities. Although the principles presented are universal in scope, this offering is "culturally-rooted" and geared to participants living out a western worldview. Through cognitive and experiential learning, these will be highly interactive sessions including open discussion, video screenings, guided meditations, and selected readings. This course is appropriate for beginners and those with meditation experience.

860: Kant

DONALD ROSS

Eleven Fridays (9:45 AM - 11:15 AM)

September 24

Hybrid

The purpose of this course is to explore the philosophy of Immanuel Kant. We will be covering the shorter versions of his first two Critiques (Critique of Pure Reason and Critique of Practical Reason), plus selections from the third Critique (Critique of Judgment). The shorter version of Kant's first Critique is his Prolegomena to Any Future Metaphysics. The shorter version of Kant's second Critique is his Grounding for the Metaphysics of Morals, supplemented by Part II of his Metaphysics of Morals, titled The Metaphysical Principles of Virtue. The selections from the third Critique also will be supplemented by two essays on politics. The online format of this hybrid study group has a large capacity; in-person is limited.

861: Utilitarianism

DONALD ROSS

Ten Fridays (11:45 AM - 1:15 PM)

September 24

Hybrid

In this course, we will read five classic texts of the Utilitarian school of ethics, three of them from the pen of John Stuart Mill (the most gifted writer among them). The other two authors and works are Jeremy Bentham's Principles of Morals and Legislation, the founding document of Utilitarianism, and The Methods of Ethics, by Henry Sidgwick, the last of the classic Utilitarians.
